Users of the Rossland Range Recreation Site are now covered by insurance provided by the Recreation Sites and Trails Branch. This insurance also includes volunteers working on Recreation Site projects, but only if the volunteers operating chainsaws get basic certification in chainsaw safety. Without the certification, the chainsaw operator will not be covered by the insurance, as in "the olden days" .

On a rainy day at the end of May, 2015, volunteers took the free chainsaw certification course. The guys were already fairly good with chainsaws so the 2 instructors certified them and now they will be insured while working in the Recreation Site.
