

A winner is drawn on March 26, 2006 for the Louise Drescher print of Rossland!

Derek Lum had the lucky lottery ticket drawn March 26, 2006 and won the Louise Drescher print of Rossland in the lottery which raised almost $900 for the Friends of the Rossland Range efforts. Thank you to all the people who bought lottery tickets to help with raising these needed funds!

The evening of the draw was the final event of the Firehall Gallery which has been the venue for many important Rossland activities and fund raisers during the past year.

Many enjoyed music and stories of Old Glory by Sparky Steeves, Tracey Saxby, Ari Gore, and Ed Nelson. There were old and new photographs of the Rossland to view and the 6 minute 1954 video produced by the National Film Board of Canada, "Professional Hermits Operate Canada's Highest Weather Station" was played all during the evening.

Thank you to everyone who participated and especially to these generous people:

Louise Drescher, Rossland Council for the Arts and Culture, The Firehall Art Gallery
Musicians Sparky Steeves, Tracey Saxby, Ari Gore, and Ed Nelson
Ari Gore and fiancée Shari who organized the event and prepared all the appies
Our friends who "pitched in" when it was really needed

Tracey Saxby shared her lovely voice.

Maps, the 1954 video produced by the National Film Board of Canada, "Professional Hermits Operate Canada's Highest Weather Station" and photographs were enjoyed by many.

Everyone had some laughs, including Cathy Behrenbruch

Many people have donated or loaned photographs for the Friends of the Rossland Range to share with the community at events such as this.

There was no shortage of appies to enjoy.

Director Ari Gore organized the event and was the MC.

Michael Robbins and his friend from Vancouver enjoyed the evening.

At 8pm the barrel of lottery tickets was thoroughly mixed by Tracey Saxby and Ari Gore, then Tracey chose the lucky ticket owned by Derek Lum.
